Vivid Youth, Dull Age
Educating Trotsky

By Arthur Brisbane

BRICK BUILDING, owned by a Democratic political worker, was blown up by a small bomb yesterday. That was bomb outrage No. 64 in Chicago within the last six months. They did not count the bombing of a Chinese laundry.

Senator Borah has given up his plan to make the old Republican a good girl by paying back $150,000 contributed by Mr. Fitzgerald. Only $7000 was sent to the fund. Prosperous Republicans seem to care less about the elephant's reputation than Mr. Borah hoped they would.

Claire Winzer, wife of a poor miner, has added a fifth pair of twins to Germany's population, two healthy boys, weighing 15 pounds. Five pairs of twins is a record. The Kaiser would have shown something about it. A republic is more cold blooded.

In youth impressions are vivid, and last into old age. Therefore, the manuscript of "Alice in Wonderland" sells for $75,359, a record price, more than would have been paid for the manuscript of Dante's "Inferno," or of Voltaire's "Zadig." Each word worth a thousand "Alice in Wonderland" manuscripts.

Years dull imagination. Millions that remember "Robinson Crusoe," "Swiss Family Robinson," "Gulliver's Travels" vividly have a faint impression of more important books read later.

One dispatch said Trotsky was shot by an American "Red," of a shade lighter or darker than Trotsky's. Another dispatch says Trotsky was not shot.

As we saw, Trotsky, deprived of all power, is punished by the government that he had Lenin put on his knees.

He knows that, like republics, Communist organizations are ungrateful.

Despite mouing by friends of "oppressed peoples," a British army will be kept in Egypt to stop nonsense that might interfere with the Suez canal. Britain is practical. Uncle Sam's treaty with Nicaragua authorizes him to build, for the benefit of the entire world, a sea level canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He should not allow any interfering with that, no matter how the sentimentalists rage.

Two million girls work for a living in this country—2,000,000 too many. American girls should be married, producing good children for the next generation. Schopenhauer, in his "Studies in Pessimism," referred to women's harshness in dealing with an erring sister, says all women are in a conspiracy to make each man support some one woman for life, and won't forgive any woman that interferes with the conspiracy.

Something has happened to that conspiracy in modern times. It should be reborn.

Dr. George Leakey treats cancer cells by exposing affected parts to an oscillating electric current. This disintegrates the cancer cells, replacing them with new, uncontaminated cells. Cancer in the early stages is not dangerous unless deep seated. Its cure involves finding a way to kill a vicious growth, and science will find the way.

KNOWITON DENIES KILLING GIRL; SEEN GLAZES IN BURNED COTTAGES Identify Decimo Check at Reading Hearing

PRIDE IS QUIZZED AGAIN

Atty. Gen. Arthur K. Reading sought "prompt action without publicity" in the affairs of the United L. & W. Acceptance Corporation, according to testimony today before the special legislative committee investigating his conduct in office.

The phrase was contained in a letter alleged to have been written by Reading to President Deane of the Brockton subsidiary company of the acceptance corporation on November 15 last.

Harry K. Stone of Brockton, lawyer and stockholder in the Brockton company, identified the letter, which was read by Major Thomas J. Hammond, of counsel for the committee. It invited Deane to a "dinner" at the Boston City Club and in it was the phrase "A critic has arisen in the affairs of the L. & W. which necessitates prompt action without publicity."

Stone told the committee he went with Deane to the City Club for the meeting and was requested by Reading to stay outside because he had "been in touch with Worcester."

Reading said he found many irregularities in his audit of the L. & W. and advised the committee that he stopped work on the books upon direction of Reading.

KNOWLTON HELD BY COURT ON GIRL MURDER CHARGE

Immediately after Knowlton was removed from the Concord Court to East Cambridge jail, State Detectives Sherlock and O'Neil, with Police Chief Holbrook of Framingham and Sgt. Curtin of Concord, left by automobile for the fire scene on the road between Framingham and Concord.

Although the cottage, situated on the shore of a pond, were destroyed, they hoped to find the chain teacher's hat and other indications that the murder was committed there, before the body was transported to Concord to be left by the roadside.

The road in question, the officers pointed out, showing a roadside, is also the shortest route from Framingham to Beverly. Knowlton is declared to have admitted that the girl went from Beverly to Framingham and met him there Thursday evening.

She was due back at her place of employment, the Beverly School for Deaf Mutes, that night, but never returned.

Knowlton's employer at his electrical shop in Framingham, Clarence E. Rhodes, told Dist. Atty. Bushnell that Knowlton left there early Friday afternoon and was washing his car the first thing Saturday morning, according to disclosures today by the police.

ACCUSED AT 15

Scrutiny of Framingham court records revealed that when 15, Knowlton was charged with assault and battery on his father and step-mother, who were shot in bed, but he was acquitted.

Knowlton, who is married and the father of one child, was called in court today in spite of evident weariness. His demeanor gave no hint of the fact that he is accused of one of the most brutal crimes in recent years in this state.

His wife did not communicate with him up to the time that he appeared in court, but Atty. John P. Bradford of Framingham was on hand to advise him.

In custody of Detectives O'Neil and Sherlock, Chief Holbrook and Sgt. Curtin, the accused was released to Concord by auto from East Cambridge police station, where he had spent the early morning hours, after 12 hours' grilling by Dist. Atty. Bradford, Chief Holbrook of the State Police, Atty. Atty. Volpe and Crafts and the police involved in the investigation.

CROWD AT COURT

The square in front of the court-house in Concord was filled with automobiles and several hundred persons had gathered to see the prisoner arrive. They tried to crowd into the courtroom, but the doors were ordered closed when the auto was filed.

Knowlton was given into the custody of Police Chief Ryan of Concord who placed him in the prisoners' pen in the courtroom, and three hours later he was taken to the jail, sitting at desks made by Judge Prescott Keyes.

When arraigned he stood calmly at the rail. Atty. Driscoll waived reading of the charge. Sergeant Curtin asked a continuance to April 13, after all the police present had conferred with the clerk, and this was granted by Judge Keyes.

The prisoner was taken then to the police station, while crowds still stayed around to see him, and he was removed to East Cambridge jail.

Arrest of Knowlton as a suspicious person was the result of information given by State Detectives O'Neil and Sherlock that the murdered girl had made a telephone call from the Beverly School for Deaf Mutes, where she was employed, to Framingham, on the Thursday night, when she left the school and disappeared.

Coupled with this was information from the teacher's family at Framingham that she knew a Fram-

Washing of Car Vital Murder Chain Link

"KNOWLTON was washing his car when I got to work Saturday morning."

This statement by Clarence E. Rhodes, employee of Frederick Hinman Knowlton, Jr., provided a vital link in the circumstantial chain that led authorities to charge Knowlton with murder of Margaret Stewart.

When the body of the young teacher was found in Concord Friday night, police immediately knew that an auto was linked with the crime. The dying girl had been transported to the spot where the body was discovered.

This was Rhodes' story, under long questioning, according to the authorities: "Knowlton worked all day Thursday and until 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. He left at that hour, saying, 'I will be leaving early tonight, so I want you to close up.' 'I arrived for work Saturday morning at 9. He was cleaning the hood of his auto with a rag or sponge. He always washed and greased his own car.'"

Questioned later, Knowlton admitted he washed his car Saturday.

ALL PHILADELPHIA POLICE

HUNT FOR KIDNAPED BOY

Philadelphia, April 5 (AP)—Every means of the police was in motion today to trace four-year-old George Edward Miller, believed kidnapped by two women late yesterday near his home. The child is the son of Hiram Miller, caretaker of a rooming house. The versions of four small companions of the missing boy are the only clues the police have to work upon. The children were playing with George under the Reading railroad bridge crossing Jefferson st. when he was seized by two women and thrust into a taxicab which quickly disappeared.

The message wishes Nobile and his companions all success in their adventure to the top of the world.

The cross is about six feet in height, with a metal base and metal ornamentation. There is no figure of Christ on the cross.

DEATH SUSPECT AT 15; FREED OF SHOOTING

Frederick Hinman Knowlton, now charged with murdering Margaret Stewart, figured 15 years ago in one of the strangest cases on the records of Framingham District Court, where, 15 years old at the time, he was charged with assault and battery on his father and stepmother, who were shot in their bed.

A girl living above the Knowltons testified she heard Mrs. Knowlton scream and heard one of three shots that were fired.

Knowlton's fence was that his father did the shooting while waiting in his sleep. The doctor who attended the father expressed the opinion that the boy did the shooting while waiting in his sleep.

From the mass of testimony the court decided there was not sufficient evidence to hold the boy and he was released, the charge being dismissed.

The stepmother was wounded on the forehead, while one bullet buried itself in the roof of the elder Knowlton's mouth. The bulleting caught fire and the father's face was power-blackened, according to testimony.

The revolver in the case was young Knowlton's, but he declared he had not used it for three months, since engaging in target practice in the yard.

Defense counsel asserted the stepmother knew the boy had a loaded gun in his room and had spoken to him about it.

Town Counsel Walter Adams declared he was convinced the boy did the shooting in his sleep. Young Knowlton told at the time of having once walked downstairs in his sleep, put on his overcoat and returned to bed thus attired before waking up.

ACCUSED MAN'S WIFE IS NEAR COLLAPSE

Framingham, April 5—in a small white cottage of the longhouse type, at 22 Shawmut ter., two anguished women, one of them on the verge of collapse, today attempted to convince each other of the innocence of a husband and stepson, at whose door is laid the charge of murder.

They are first, Mrs. Gertrude Knowlton, wife of Frederick Hinman Knowlton, local business man, charged with the murder of Margaret Isabelle Stewart, and second, his stepmother.

Early today, while Knowlton was being questioned in the office of the district attorney of Middlesex County at East Cambridge, his parents went to his home at 143 Lincoln st. and took back with them the young wife and her child.

The elder Mrs. Knowlton, grief-stricken, added to be accused from discussing the arrest of her stepson, but declared the family would stand by him.

"His wife is in bed on the verge of collapse," she said. "She is unable to see anyone or talk with anyone."

"I myself have heart trouble and the affair has made me so ill I fear for myself. I can't talk about it. Please don't ask me."

Neighbors on Lincoln st. declared the younger Knowltons couple seemed very happy in their married life.

"I'm sure Mrs. Knowlton never had a suspicion of her husband," said one woman. "They were apparently ideally married. Gertrude wasn't broken up by his arrest. I don't believe the charges are true. He was so sociable, so friendly, such a nice fellow. He bore a spotless reputation in Framingham."

Both friends declared themselves shocked today at information that Knowlton had been held for the murder of the school teacher.

Stunned also was little accused man's father, Frederick H. Knowlton, a selectman of Framingham and proprietor of a business college.

Apparently returning from East Cambridge, the elder Knowlton accompanied by a married daughter, parked his car today beside the Framingham police station and climbed unsteadily out of the machine.

When asked for a statement the father raised a bigged face and said: "It is a great shock to me. I don't need to tell you that. Please don't ask me more."

KNOWLTON IS VERY CALM AT REHEARSAL

When Frederick Hinman Knowlton, young Framingham business man, was held for the murder of Margaret Stewart, Beverly school teacher, the Framingham Chamber of Commerce was deprived of one of its nimblest chorus men.

Only last Tuesday night, Knowlton took part in a rehearsal for a minstrel show to be produced in May by the retail affairs division of the Chamber of Commerce. It was the first rehearsal, and Knowlton went through his tryout so skillfully that he was picked as one of the chorus.

Both friends declared themselves shocked today at information that Knowlton had been held for the murder of the school teacher.

Spain Rulers Wash Beggars' Feet

Madrid, Spain, April 5 (AP)—The King and Queen of Spain today washed the feet of 28 beggars, 12 men and 16 women, in an annual religious ceremony befitting Christian humility. Twelve of the men and three of the women were blind.

After the simple foot-washing ritual, the poor mendicants were led to another apartment and each presented with a new suit or dress, overcoat or mantle, underclothing, a bag containing 50 pieces of silver and a basket of the finest fruits and foods.

The ceremony took place in the royal palace, for the presence of high functionaries of the court, religious officials, hundreds of Spanish aristocrats and many foreign visitors.

EXECUTIVES IN PARLEY ON BIG R. R. MERGER

New York, April 5—Nine officials of leading transportation systems of the East went into conference in the offices of W. M. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, here today ostensibly to decide the fate of plans that would link 10,000 miles of four systems, including the New York, New Haven & Hartford.

Although developments of the last few days have led observers to believe the movement, started four years ago, to merge the eastern roads into four, or more, trunk line systems was near fruition, no announcement was forthcoming as the officials conferred.

Those present, in addition to President Atterbury, were: Patrick H. Crowley, president of the New York Central; Daniel Willard, president, and G. M. Shriver, vice-president, of the Baltimore & Ohio; O. P. and M. J. Van Swearingen of the Nickel Plate; J. J. Berne, president of the Erie; J. P. Lore, president of the Delaware & Hudson; and A. J. Munty, vice-president of the Pennsylvania.

The major details of the Eastern merger plan are already agreed upon, but each road is striving for leadership, and it will be this point that will be hotly debated today.

Indications that various interests were buying for control of some of the key roads were given by the activity and strength of their stocks. Pittsburgh & West Virginia was bid up to $15 a share to $19, and Wash had an extreme rise of $5 a share.

The purpose behind the New York Central's purchases of Wash and stock somewhat hazy, as Wash lines east of the Mississippi are assigned by the new plan to the Baltimore & Ohio. It is assumed that the Central, fortifying the position, seeks a trade with the B. & O. for holdings in the Lehigh Valley, which has been assigned to the Nickel Plate.

Lehigh Valley stock held by the Wash, estimated at 22 per cent, also is to go to the Nickel Plate and New York Central. The Central, alone, is to get the Lackawanna. In addition to the Eastern lines of the Wash, the Baltimore & Ohio is to acquire the Reading and the Jersey Central. The position of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia has not yet been completely worked out.

There is legislation now before Congress to permit voluntary groupings of rail lines, which would cover the present situation, but the pending bill provides for approval of the I. C. C.

Parker Sees B. & M. Merged in the Nickel Plate System

Washington, April 5—Representative James B. Parker of New York, chairman of the House committee on interstate commerce and author of the Parker railroad consolidation bill, when asked his understanding of distribution of New England roads in consolidation plans said:

"Undoubtedly the New Haven will be assigned to the Pennsylvania system, the Boston & Albany will go to the New York Central and the Boston & Maine to the Nickel Plate system."

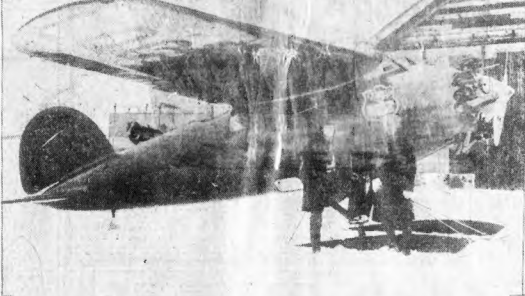

Mr. Parker will give Boston three of the four great eastern systems and secure New England a strong competitive system.

Mr. Parker believes the long period of hesitation and uncertainty in railroad consolidations is near its end and that as soon as needed legislation can be passed accomplishment will follow rapidly.

THINK WILKINS ON FLIGHT TO 'WORLD TOP'

Seward, Alaska, April 5 (AP)—Lack of news from Point Barrow, Capt. George H. Wilkins Arctic exploration headquarters, was taken here as an indication that he was going ahead with plans for a flight across the top of the world to Spitzbergen, 2100 miles away, beginning at 6 o'clock this morning (A. S. M. Pacific time). So far as was known here, only adverse weather would prevent the take-off.

In a wooden monoplane piloted by Lieut. Ben Eilson, his companion on two previous Arctic expeditions, Wilkins expects to chart the upper air currents and take soundings of the Arctic Ocean. He hopes to find the fabled lost continent, which most Arctic explorers have reported existing, but which has never been reached.

Wilkins planned to radio his take-off and report progress of his flight with a 100 meter radio set. During his 17-day stay at Barrow the explorer has had much difficulty communicating with the outside because of his unfamiliarity with radio, motor generator trouble and frequent interference of amateur stations sending on his wave length.

New York, April 5 (AP)—Mrs. Esther Wilson, Arctic explorer and big game huntress, charged with shooting her husband, was freed under $25,000 bail today. Delbert H. Wilson, the husband, is still in a hospital.

Much of the final honors to Congressman Gallivan were of a military nature. At the time he was a member of the Massachusetts National Guard and served as an aide de camp of the late General Josephus H. Winters, commander of the Second Brigade, M. N. G. At the grave in Holyhood the corpse of the late Congressman was laid to rest. The active pall-bearers were: John P. Connelley, John P. Farnham, John P. Fitzpatrick, Thomas E. McShane, George E. Curran, Representative William P. Hickey, James J. Gallivan, a nephew, Timothy F. Callahan and James F. Powers.

U. S. Senators Frederick H. Gillett and David L. Walsh headed the senatorial delegation. The Massachusetts members of Congress will lead the Irish delegation.

Gallivan. His loving memory will ever be cherished within our hearts."

DEMANDS CONGRESS ACT ON CONSCRIPTION BILL

Washington, April 5 (AP)—The little used parliamentary machinery of the House, by which a bill is forced from a committee, was set in motion on the floor today by Chairman Johnson of the veterans' committee in an effort, he said, to obtain action this session on a bill proposing the conscription of civilian industry and labor as well as men in time of war. At the close of a speech, Johnson stood on the speaker's table, a petition to have the bill discharged from the House military committee and called up for consideration.

You May Soon Phone to Your Friends in Airplane

New York, April 5 (AP)—Preference of apparatus for communication from the home or office to the air lines of the future is the next objective of engineers if the American Telephone & Telegraph Company.

They ultimately hope to extend regular telephone service into the sky so that a person using an ordinary phone in office or home can speak to a person flying in a plane. Experimental equipment has been developed together at Whippany, N. J., and a new Fairchild cabin airplane has been purchased for use in the tests.

ALL YET TOO LATE TO GO WEST; DELAYS HIS TRIP

St. Paul, Minn., April 5 (AP)—After R. Fall's trip to California was deferred again today to permit an additional day's rest. The family was still not completely recovered from an apparent relapse following taking of his deposition for the trial in Washington of Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

CONGRESSIONAL PARTY LAUDS GALLIVAN

Members of the congressional delegation in Boston today to attend the funeral of Congressman James A. Gallivan paid a composite tribute to their deceased colleague.

In a statement drawn up by Congressman Allen D. Treadway, they said:

"The congressional delegation in attendance at the funeral of the late Congressman Gallivan, expresses its great sorrow at the loss of one of its most esteemed members. He had been one of our most active members for a number of years, and a prominent figure on the floor of Congress. His personal popularity brought him many close friends."

As a citizen of Massachusetts and as a member of Congress, his death will be a distinct loss. He was a typical example of America's training and opportunities."

Members of the delegation who had been intimate with Congressman Gallivan expressed their sorrow at his passing.

Mrs. Edith Neume Rogers, said: "I was one of the many who were always made a friend. He was kind to me when I first went to the Capitol, and made me feel at home. He was one of the wisest and most beloved members of the House. He always went out of his way to do things for people."

"The House, as a rule, never listens to long speeches, but whenever Jimmy, in his intimate, personal way, rose to talk, everyone remained. He was one of the wisest men in Washington."

Rep. Louis A. Proctor, said: "He always used to say to me that I was the best second baseman outside of himself at Harvard. He was a good sport, and his death leaves a void that cannot be filled."

Rep. Platt Andrews: "We all feel his loss very keenly. Tributes were also paid by two members of the delegation who are 'here' and therefore were opponents of Congressman Gallivan on the floor of the House. They were Representatives Hugh W. Byrne of Tennessee, and Joseph C. Gurnea, of Michigan."

Representative Byrne said:

"Although I was always a foe of Jimmy on the floor, because I am a dry and he was a wet, we nevertheless were very dear friends. He was a regular fellow and I feel a personal sense of loss in his death."

After breakfast at the Copple Place, the out-of-state members of the delegation, under the direction of Congressman Treadway, were taken on a bus ride around Boston.

During which the points of interest were viewed. They leave tonight for Washington on the Federal Express.

For these growing boys and girls...

Critical, youthful eyes will appraise the shoes that boys' and girls' mothers will buy for them this spring.

"I like the pretty buckle on this one, Mother," Miss Fourteen will say with conviction. "And this one's got the right sort of toe," Mr. Twelve will decide as he glances down at his own new shoes.

They know style, these youngsters. Mothers, though, are more anxious about whether the shoes will permit the freedom for growth that's so vital and important.

What a heaven, then, are the Coward Stores. Mothers know that Coward builds only the right kind of children's shoes. And she's glad that the children are sure to find Coward Shoes that take into account youth's flair for the proper style.

SMITH PARADE 'BOMBED' WITH GEORGIA EGGS

Athens, Ga., April 5 (AP)—A well-directed fusillade of eggs, hurled by a group of persons garbed in the white, today was responsible for a lull in public demonstrations by the University of Georgia's Al Smith-for-President Club.

Fifty adherents of the New York Governor after organization, wired him expressions of fealty and informed him a parade would be held in tribute to his candidacy.

Torchlights spluttering, banners drumming, saxophones moaning and brass drums booming, the parade formed an advertisement and proceeded through the downtown streets. Its progress was unimpeded.

Arrived at the improvised platform which had been the procession's goal, Governor Nixon, president of the club, mounted the rostrum to speak.

Then, out of the night, the sheet-metal faction appeared. Giving the historic "Rebel yell," its members swooped down on the supporters of Governor Smith. Projecting axes from the folds of their robes, they fired salvo after salvo on the celebrants. Outnumbered ten to one, the Smith-for-President Club adjourned its session without the formality of a vote.

Even the Smith adherents admitted that the white-robed attackers were not members of the Ku Klux Klan.

They were students wearing sheets acquired from dormitory bunks.

SHAVITCH TO BE GUEST CONDUCTOR IN RUSSIA

New York, April 5 (AP)—Taddeus Shavitch, conductor of the Syracuse, N. Y., Symphony Orchestra, was en route to Russia today aboard the liner Berengaria to act as a guest conductor for the Soviet government orchestra for six weeks.

He will introduce at least three works of America's modern composers. He has tentatively selected Copland's "Plyvier 10,000,000," Carpenter's "Mysticisms," and Goldmark's "Negro Rhapsody."

Fire Loss $150,000

Belairville, Md., N. Y., April 5 (AP)—Four stores and a cottage in the business section of Belairville were razed by fire today. The loss was estimated at $150,000.

Great Britain abandons the intelligent scheme to control and put up the price of rubber, thus making American automobile owners pay Britain's war debt.

Washington reporters say, probably inaccurately, that President Coolidge is "sacked" at the suggestion of $750,000,000 to make the Mississippi river safe.

A country that could give TEN THOUSAND MILLIONS TO EUROPE and half a million a year to railroad receipts, and plan wisely, to cut $200,000,000 a year from corporation taxes, need not shoulder at the thought of spending part of its billions to make the Mississippi safe.

DEATH TAKES DEPEW, WITTY G. O. P. LEADER

known for several hours that his death was near. He died at 10:15 Saturday, upon his return from St. Petersburg, Fla. He had suffered "a slight chill" on the trip north and it developed into a bronchial cold which gradually grew worse.

At his bedside last he died Mrs. Depew, a son, Chamber M. Depew, Jr., a niece, Miss Anne Depew, and a nephew, Chamber Depew, with Dr. J. Lewis Houser and other attending physicians.

Mr. Depew's long and colorful career spanned the administrations of 22 of the 36 Presidents of the United States.

He was a member of the United States Senate for twelve years and was one of America's railroad pioneers and empire builders.

For 14 years he was president of the New York Central Railroad, and was chairman of its board of directors from 1898 to his death.

His public life began in 1862 when he made his first public speech several years before John Lincoln went to the White House, and for 26 years thereafter, he continued to be heard with authority and appreciation.

I am known as an after-dinner speaker," he said in an interview a few years ago. "I hope I am also known as a man who works. My dinner has never interfered with my business. They have been my friends."

Most men get their relaxation in cards. That makes them keep late hours, and they sit in a room with bad air and drink too many cocktails. I have always been careful of what I eat at banquets and they never have been a strain on me."

Below, more often than any man in this country, responded to the familiar, "We have with us this evening." He had a quick wit and ready tongue and his conversation was in demand everywhere.

Mr. Depew once said in an interview that I have been on good terms with the President since I met him. I have made strenuous efforts to be calm, to be temperate. All my life I have cultivated people because I liked them."

President Garfield himself said to Mr. Depew, you might be called the President if you did not tell funny stories. The nation never found a man if he indulged in jokes. He is not regarded as a serious person."

He achieved outstanding success as a railroad man and financier. He was the first to start the New York Central. He was the first to start the New York Central. He was the first to start the New York Central.

It required persuasion to cause Depew to enter the railroad field because he had just been appointed by President Jackson as minister to Japan. He finally accepted the position of general counsel to the New York & Harlem Railroad.

The Commodore had just acquired the road, which he described as "junk," although it was the forerunner of the New York Central.

Depew was a success from the start, and later, when the New York Central was formed, he became its president.

Mr. Depew came of French Huguenot ancestors on the paternal side. His father was a merchant and a farmer. On the maternal side one of his forebears was Roger Sherman, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

The first time he served in the United States Senate was among the highest of his life. Mr. Depew once said, he was first elected in 1862.

One of the highlights of his political career was when he succeeded the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt in the convention of 1904.

Three years after his nomination, he backed Taft against Roosevelt when the Republican party was split.

Depew himself was once nominated for the presidency in 1904.

London Pastor Says Hot Cross Buns Are 'Home Wreckers'

London, April 5 (AP)—Hot cross buns, the sale of which ended annually for Good Friday, were labeled as home wreckers by the Rev. James Shepherd addressing an assembly of women at Islington Church, he said.

"Don't eat hot cross buns on Good Friday. Don't give them to your husbands. They are buns that were offered to pagan gods."

"After a hearty breakfast of hot cross buns, you may act like a pagan. Many homes have been wrecked by indigestible hot cross buns. So whether you are married or single leave them alone."

MELLON TAXCUT PLAN STRIKES SNAG IN HOUSE

Washington, April 5 (AP)—Tax reduction was again thrown into a doubtful state of confusion today when House fiscal leaders declared the House will turn down the Mellon program even though the Senate approves it.

The prospect of a disagreement between the two houses, preventing any reduction, caused administration leaders to inaugurate a movement to harmonize the differences.

While the House leaders were having trouble down upon discussion of Mellon's plan, Republicans on the Senate Finance committee were engaged in drafting a bill to restrict the Treasury's $20,000,000 limitation.

Rep. Willis C. Hawley, chairman of the House ways and means committee, and a consistent administration supporter, declared there was little hope of the House taking the Mellon program.

"It seems doubtful if the House will agree to no reduction on the automobile tax, or the repeal of the estate tax or modification of the intermediate brackets of the individual income tax, as suggested by Mr. Mellon," said Hawley.

Rep. Garner, D. of Texas, minority leader on the ways and means committee, also declared the House would not accept Mellon's program of tax reduction. Garner said he was "not concerned with the amount so much as the time to be cut."

D. A. R. HEAD RAPPS BLACKLIST CRITIC

A sharp reply to criticism of D. A. R. activities by Mrs. Helen Tutu Tullie was made today by Mrs. Louise Balcome Peabody, Massachusetts state representative of the organization, who declared that Mrs. Tutu "is only one of over 164,000 Daughters" and never held any office.

"In pursuing your position on National Defense, we are but following resolutions unanimously adopted for the past few years in our Continental Congress, our delegated body, where all decisive plans for our work are adopted. The intent and purpose of our Society is to support the Government in its program looking to adequate National Defense. We face the world as it is—not as we would like it to be.

"It is entirely within my province as State Representative of Massachusetts to offer suggestions in regard to speakers whose purpose and ideals are not in accord with the fundamental principles of our Society. Mrs. Tutu has in the past continued, and still continues to question this right. Evidently she does not accord our Society the right of free speech which she so vehemently claims for others. In assuming my position, I am adhering to the Amendment of the Constitution, Article I. Our Society has in no way interfered with free speech.

"Speakers of the highest order who have been working for the ideals and objectives of our Society have always addressed chapters throughout the State. These speakers have contributed appreciably to the stimulation of our objects which is to uphold the Constitution, to honor the Flag, to support the present form of Government, to respect sacred traditions of nationhood, to observe law and order, to reverence God."

COSGRAVE GAINS SEAT BY DUBLIN BYE-ELECTION

Dublin, April 5.—A bye-election in Dublin city, north, for a seat in the Irish Free State, made vacant by the resignation of the transport minister, today gave the Cosgrave government a gain. V. B. Leinster government candidate, was elected, polling 21,751 against Mrs. Katherine Clarke, Republican, 15,522, and James Larkin, Independent, 8,242.

WOMEN OPPOSE RETURN OF NANCY MILLER AND HINDU

Seattle, Wash., April 5 (AP).—Opposition to the return to the United States of the former Marajah of India and his wife, formerly Nancy Miller, was voiced today by the Women's House Missionary Society of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church. The couple's "altruistic purposes to disseminate the Hindu religion in the United States" was objected to by the society.

HOLLAND IS AWARDED ISLAND LAS PALMAS

The Hague, April 4 (AP).—The Netherlands has been given title to the island Las Palmas, Chagor, lying between the Philippines and India, East Indies. Possession of the island was disputed by the United States and Holland. President Mack Honore, Secretary of State, acting as arbitrator, decided in favor of Holland.

JUDGE BARES READING THREAT

would avert the possibility of criminal prosecution? A—Yes. It would avert the possibility of prosecution. Q—By Mr. Crossley? Did you consider the attorney general acting in an improper manner? A—I would rather my opinion be not asked.

Q—Did you or your associates object to Reading writing in said capacity? A—We did not feel that we should discuss the question of Reading's position, which would be sure to destroy any compromise.

Q—Charles W. S. Wheeler of Townsend Rd., Belmont, an employee of the Lechmere Co., was the next witness.

He produced the deposit slip and a check payable with reference to the personal account of Atty.-Gen. Reading. Between the date of Dec. 21, 1925, and March 31, 1928.

DEPOSIT OF $300.

Q—By Atty. Hammond? I call your attention to a deposit slip dated June 14, 1927, and ask you what that shows? A—It shows a deposit of $300.

Q—Do you know where that deposit came from? A—The slip indicates the check on the Murray Hill Trust Company of New York.

Q—Now if you will refer to the date, October 6, 1927, an item of $179.27. Do you recall anything with reference to that check? A—No.

Q—Do you know where that check came from? A—Harvard Trust Company, Cambridge.

Q—Under the date Jan. 11, 1928, what deposits were made? A—$100.

Q—In what form? A—Two checks, one of $100 on the Chase National Bank of New York and another for $200 on Southampton, N. Y.

MONEY WITHDRAWN.

Q—Referring to your slips, were the withdrawals made? A—On Jan. 21 or 22 of 1928? A—On Jan. 21 there were withdrawals of $250, $25 and $119.27.

Q—Through what channels were the withdrawals made? A—The two smaller items were in the regular routine of business through the bookkeeping department and the $250 appears on the records as a check given by Mr. Reading, for which he received our draft on the National Shawmut Bank of Boston for $300 payable to his order.

Q—Call your attention to a deposit on Feb. 16, 1928, of $133.44. I have no information beyond the deposit slip showing that it was on the Chase National Bank.

Q—Do you recall any peculiarity or circumstance in connection with that check? A—No.

The witness then began an examination, saying: "If publicity was given a few days prior, I can place the check in my own mind."

Atty. Anderson: I object. Let him testify to what the records show.

Q—By Hammond: What do your records show? A—My records show that a check on the Chase National Bank of New York for $133.44 was deposited on Feb. 16, 1928.

Q—Without giving any reason why you observed that check, what observations did you make? A—That, Hammond, I will endeavor to answer the question. I have in mind certain facts about a certain deposit and I ran into that deposit if I can get certain information.

Q—Call to the witness if publicity was given to this investigation Feb. 12, 14 or 15?

The witness was then informed that the investigation order was issued on February 12.

A—I have in mind that a check was received payable to Atty. Gen. Reading made by the Decima Club and I am quite sure it was this one.

BEING CLUB NAMED.

This was the first time since the hearing began that mention was made by any witness of the Decima Club, his connection with which resulted in the order for the investigation.

Q—The date of deposit on that check was what? A—February 16, 1928.

Q—Refer to a $300 deposit on February 12? A—That recalls nothing to my mind except a deposit of $300 made in cash.

Q—On November 11, 1927, what, if any, deposits were made? A—Two checks, one of $100 on the Chase National Bank of New York and another check of $200 on the Central National Savings and Trust Company of Cleveland.

The witness was then cross-examined by Attorney Anderson.

Q—Where is the Lechmere Bank? A—On Cambridge St., East Cambridge, near Lechmere st.

Q—And Arthur K. Reading lives in Cambridge, doesn't he? A—I don't know.

Q—Didn't you look at your record to see whether he did or not? A—No.

HASTY PUDDING'S 82D ANNUAL SHOW GOES OVER BIG, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Harvard Student Actors Score Added Triumphs in "Not Now-Later"

THE HASTY PUDDING MEN CALL THEIR CURRENT SHOW "Not Now-Later." Which apparently has nothing much to do with the case. They might have called it "Puff" were they casting about for an innocuous bit of nomenclature wherewith to designate their 82nd offering. And still, did it contain two such song hits as the "Pilgrim" and the "Spanish" ditties, and two such artists as Messrs. Melcher and Wilson, no matter what its name it would be an enormous success. The youthful members of Harvard's oldest dramatic organization have an amazing genius for putting together shows that are hits from the first note to the final curtain.

CERTAINLY THEY HAVE A WAY WITH THEM THEATRICALITY, those bright young men, when it comes to concocting a hodge-podge of amusing lines, clever and useful tunes, and have in the cast "girls" with as much activity in the dance, and character artists of bill-topper technique to carry on a plot of an elasticity reaching from dear Salem to smiling Florida and the Fountain of Youth in Saint Augustine. "Not Now-Later" is another bit of which the Hasty Pudding men may speak proudly to posterity.

EDWARD DEB. MELCHER IS A LEADING LADY OF CHARM and dash of whom any Pudding man may proudly hold forth at length. F. R. G. Giddens is "Mark Peppercell" who brought fame to the newly founded college in Pilgrim days by being first to be expelled from it. Twelve young men in the cast and fourteen in the chorus sang and danced through two as cleverly carried out acts as have been put on the Pudding stage for many a year. And to make the thing perfect, Scott Wilson assumed the part and the fetching Spanish costumes of "Partisita" at two hours' notice and made a hit, of course.

YOUNG MR. WILSON HAS DANCED HIS WAY THROUGH two Pudding shows as delicate as a feminine lead as ever the club membership produced. And when it was announced that he would substitute for Mr. Plorshelmer great was the anticipation. Hasty Pudding men are not at all averse, it seems, to gently pricking the self assurance of their dear Alma Mater. Boldly do they assert that Harvard was founded chiefly to furnish Boston debutantes with dancing partners. And girls in the audience who are debutantes, and those who have been, were delighted with this sally, naturally.

OF COURSE, THE AUDIENCE WAS SMART AND DISTINGUISHED; interested and interesting. Miss Louise Fossenden watched keenly the Pudding offering, being herself so closely identified with the Vincent Club's affairs theatrical. Miss Minna Lindsay was one of a young set group, charmed by Mrs. Thomas Lindsay, her maternal parent. Mrs. Ronald T. Lyman's daughter, Miss Elizabeth, and Mrs. Lyman herself were feminine ornaments of the large and delighted audience. Miss Jean Sears was a "first nighter" and so were Miss Virginia Ayres, Miss Helen Rust, Miss Rachel Jackson, and over so many of the "debutantes" for whom Harvard was founded.

FROM PARIS VIA GOTHAM COMES THE EDICT THAT TO BE absolutely most in this spring the tailored suit or the fur-trimmed coat no longer sports a flower, single or in cluster, at the shoulder. Paris says the flowers are passe and shows crimson strawberries and cherries to hang from the lapel if mildew would be of the moment, or just a bit ahead of it, sartorially. There are also pretty concoctions of blue glass done in blossom, straight from the Paris designers and delicate as a spring spray, to ornament the suit and the ensemble.

A HOST WHOSE INVITATIONS NEVER GO UNACCEPTED IS Henry David Sleeper, whose dinner companies are as recherche as his Chevy Chase apartment is delightful, and as his East Gloucester summer home is Lark American perfection from its sweeping stone path to its artistic topmost stone in its tallest chimney. Recently Mr. Sleeper gathered a company of congenials together in his very lovely town apartment to partake of one of his famous feats. And not so very far in the future Mr. Sleeper will betake himself to East Gloucester.

SATURDAY MORNING AT THE COPLEY THEATER IS ESSENTIALLY A Very Young Set offering, since Punch and Judy is to be done by Mr. Clive. So it follows that recreations are being made by doing mothers that their offspring may see this ancient nursery classic properly presented. With an eye for exact effect and tradition, Mr. Clive does the show with true Old English spirit. The Women's Municipal League is presenting it, and as usual the Junior League is called upon for its quota of fair young things to do ushering duties and the like.

SOME OF THE SAME FAIR BEY, DOING THIRN "PROBATIONARY" services so willingly, will be on hand when Roma Ponselli sings on April 10 at the Statler. Like so many poles in an old-fashioned garden, the singers will be in their powdered wigs and silken gowns. And in contrast, they'll sell the present day's most exotic bloom, the orchid. Private greenhouses and smart flower shops have been canvassed for a supply of the fragile beauties that will undoubtedly turn a pretty penny for the Crittenton League. Mrs. William J. McDonald is arranging the benefit with the usual smart sponsorship. Royalties and predictions are that the Ponselli benefit will be one of the year's bankable.

$250,000 GEMS OF U. S. WOMAN LOST IN MAIL

New York, April 5 (AP)—A $250,000 pearl necklace lost in the mails between Paris and London, was being sought in New York today. Advertisement in the newspapers offered $250,000 reward for information leading to its recovery.

Insured for an American woman, whose name was not revealed, the strand of 87 perfectly matched pearls (cream gems) was mailed on February 23 by a clerk in the Paris office of Cartier, Inc., jeweler, to the woman's London business. It never was delivered there.

Paris police and customs men from Scotland Yard traced the package to London, England, but found the $250,000 was lost.

Albany, N. Y., April 5 (INS)—In his charge to a special grand jury through which the state will seek to indict Mrs. Florence E. B. Knapp, former secretary of state for alleged connection with her subordination of the $100,000 pension fund of 1925, Supreme Court Justice Stephen Gallagher of Brooklyn today warned a jury that no indictment should be found because of malice or ill will.

DEMOCRATS ARE BLAMED FOR OIL SCANDAL

Byers for the good candidates, and a vote, cast by the voters and not by the legislature, to elect the next Democratic. When administration U. S. Senator Porter Byers, in an address to Congress, in the closing of the Women's Bureau, in 1917, said "135 old leavers were turned out to capitalist, totaling 1460 acres of land. Secretary of Agriculture, in 1917, said the same and also by the Wilson cabinet. It is not later and not in front of the Senate."

The Democrats are asking any of the blame, but people should remember that it was President Wilson who was responsible for the investigation. The Republicans should be praised for bringing the matter before the Senate. The State Food Commission is a check on the war and the price of food and the price of the war.

MR. BOSTON

By Jack Conway

SUNDAY SPORTS BILL IS K.O.'D IN HOUSE

"THE Boxing Commission has adopted the proper policy in warning boxers who commit fouls," said Mr. Boston today. "The ring fathers should also be handed the dukes for opening fire on some of the one-sided matches which are being pushed up to an unsuspecting public."

In view of the commission's campaign against undue, Matchmaker "The Match" has been called off by Jim Maloney's committee. Maloney has been called off by Jim Maloney's committee. Maloney has been called off by Jim Maloney's committee.

It is not a surprise that the boxing commission has adopted the proper policy in warning boxers who commit fouls. The commission has decided it is better to stop such matches before they take place than to be handing out a flood of suspensions after the fact.

Some time ago the commission put the lid down on Al Mello when an attempt was made to have him fight the small Massachusetts champion. At the time Commissioner Eulley stated that the fans in the small cities and towns were entitled to as much protection as they are in Boston.

Maloney's first major effort will probably be against Roberto Roberti at Braves Field. These men are evenly matched and should furnish the fans with a red hot battle.

It is unlikely that there will be any fouls committed for some time in Massachusetts. The dear old boxers are not anxious to be set down for terms of from three months to a year.

The practice of fouling one's way out of a bout started in New York, where the sure thing gamblers always protected their bets with a provision that the wager would be off if there was a foul. Many of the gamblers were also interested in certain bouts. They would bet heavily on their man and then instruct him to hit low if he was losing. In this way they protected their dough, as bets were off in the event of a foul.

There are certain supposedly high-class boxers who always carry their own opponents around the country with them. They fear it looks bad to have one of their own lose on a fall when it also has been knocked out. In some cases they will have the push-over fudged them in one town and then knock him out later. By this system they can get a couple of matches out of each palooka.

The unfortunate part of the entire matter is that the star fighter usually escapes scot free. The blame is always placed on the palooka who delivers the low blow, even though the latter was acting under orders.

A few stiff suspensions will make it more difficult for the sure thing boys to dig up the fighters to send over the low blow.

The commission's new policy of supervising matches closely should also help the sport. Most bouts which prove one-sided are open and shut affairs. It is just as easy to stop them before they take place as it is to punish them after the fact.

The commission has usually watched the sport very carefully in Boston. Its plan to give the out-of-town clubs closer supervision should help the sport a great deal. The fans of Fall River, Lynn, Lowell and other boxing centers of the State are entitled to as much protection as the fans in Boston.

If a bout is not good enough for Boston, it should not be wished on one of the out-of-town spots. The boxing game in Massachusetts, like a chain, cannot expect to be any stronger than its weakest link.

THE MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE

By HELEN ROWLAND

TECHNICALLY speaking a modern couple are happily married as long as they keep track of each other's telephone numbers.

Never try to "make over" your last year's romance. These spring love affairs are so flimsy that they soon lose all their color and become moth-eaten from season to season. Some men start "settling down" right after the honeymoon, but the average wife has to wait for nuritis, gout or rheumatism to slow down her husband's tempo and keep him from hobnobbing off the straight and narrow path.

The divorce lawyers will go right on flourishing just as long as men and women continue to look upon the wedding ceremony as a delightful of-and performance, which will turn a butterfly into a grub and transform a wild rumber into a clinging vine.

A woman is not absolutely safe, sane and middle-aged until she ceases to ask the druggist whether the lipstick is kioskproof or not.

One comforting thing about non-patentable marriage is that the wedding presents were taken to be "sold," but just lately plated and guaranteed to last for four or five years.

Many a man thinks that he has remained a bachelor "boy cholo" when it is merely by the grace of Heaven that no woman has set her mind on him sufficiently to throw the halter over his neck and back him into the shafts.

Fairy Tales: Once upon a time there was a good-looking youth with nice sleek hair, who did not think that any girl was awfully lucky to have him make a fuss over her for a week or two.

The kind of tonic every woman needs in spring is not so much rum and champagne for her nerves as a nice, fresh, stimulating romance to tone up her vanity.

Headaches

Don't "give in" to a headache as something that must be endured. Nor suffer the pains too many women accept as their "natural lot." Or any pain for which a tablet of Bayer Aspirin is an absolute antidote!

When you have an ache or pain, your first thought should be of Bayer Aspirin. Because it's sure-fire; it does stop pain—in a hurry. Because it's safe. Bayer Aspirin does not affect the heart. Every druggist has the real Bayer, with proven directions in each box.

Aspirin is the trade name of Bayer Manufacturing of Monochloroacetic Acid (Salicylic Acid).

CUTICURA HEALS ITCHY PIMPLES

Affected Face. Ashamed To Go Out, Lost Sleep.

"I was really ashamed to go outside on account of pimples which affected my face. They were large and red and scaled over. They itched so badly that I used to scratch them, and sometimes I could not sleep. The trouble lasted about three months.

I tried other remedies but they did not do any good. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased some and in a few weeks I was healed."

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—orange coated—pimples—poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—be lazy, in good fortune—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for alcohol—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 20 years of study.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of happiness like childhood days you must get at the cause.
